

October 23, 2025: Factual Recording of My Ongoing Experience

In the days since I stopped posting about Christianity,

I have been passing my time with online poker games on my iPad.

I am now witnessing gambling arrests in the news and am experiencing ongoing vehicle agitations that coincide with wins and losses in my online poker play.

To be clear: spies are signaling for vehicles to drive past our home making loud noises as reactions to wins and losses that I experience while I play online poker on my iPad.

This is our life now under the failed 'presidency' of America's lousiest criminals.

American military, United States National Security Administration: this is your creation.

These are facts.

World: This is the current state of the American government. Protect yourselves accordingly.

It is 9:00a.m. in the morning here and I live through this type of harassment every day - because I had the nerve to object to having our brand new car boot kicked every time Donald Trump got a wild hair up his ass that hurt his gigantic fragile egg of an ego.
